The Falkland Listed Buildings Survey 2020

How well do you know your building?

Falkland is very rich in historic and interesting buildings. Very many of them are Listed Buildings – listed by Historic Environment Scotland (HES) as being of special architectural or historic interest. The HES information is very vague and often out of date. The Falkland Society wants to build an up to date database about these special buildings and help HES improve their records. We hope you can help the Falkland Society document our history and our heritage.

Address and postcode of the property		Listing status: <input type="checkbox"/> Category A <input type="checkbox"/> Not listed <input type="checkbox"/> Category B <input type="checkbox"/> Don't know <input type="checkbox"/> Category C
Did the building previously have a different name or number?
Current use (private house, shop, café, hotel, holiday accommodation, etc.)		Any previous uses that you know of (with dates if possible)
Any special architectural features		Any extension or reconstruction (since about 1910)
Previous residents or occupiers that you know of (pre-1970)		Would you be willing to be interviewed for oral history?

We also need photographs. There was a project about 20 years ago to photograph every listed building in England; this has never been done for Scotland. Our volunteers will be photographing our historic buildings from the street, with a special effort on World Photography Day 19 August, but we would also love to have photographs or images of Falkland in previous generations, and important features that can't be seen from the street.

Have you any old pictures or photographs of the building that you could email to us or lend us for scanning?	Would you be willing to allow our volunteers to come and photograph any special features?
