

The Falkland Society

Our 2019-20 season of talks begins on Wednesday 11 September, with our AGM, followed by a talk on 'Why Orkney Matters' by our Chairman, Peter Burman.

7 p.m. Wednesday 11 September, at the Chapel Royal, Falkland Palace

Our AGM is a chance to discuss the achievements and future plans of the Society, and elect office-holders and committee for the coming year. See the Agenda at <http://www.falklandsociety.org.uk/flyers/AGM11Sep2019.pdf>

Peter Burman is Chair of the Falkland Society, an art and architectural historian with a passion for traditional craftsmanship. He has been visiting the Orcadian islands regularly for over forty years. He will be talking about 'Why Orkney Matters'. You can download the flyer at <http://www.falklandsociety.org.uk/flyers>

We are working on our next Society publication, about Falkland and its people in the Edwardian era. Tom has been reseraching the archives and Ross is providing an index and introduction. More about this at the AGM.

Please pass the message on to anyone who might be interested!
